Dear Friends in Christ,

When God asks Elijah, "What are you doing here?" God is asking: What are you doing under a broom tree, what are you doing in the wilderness, what are you doing hiding in a cave? I know you are afraid, but there is ministry for you to do." I think God's Question to the church today is, "why are you inside your buildings, why are you so worried about your budgets, why are you just sitting on your endowments - there is ministry to be done."

In this nation there are people who do not have enough good, healthy food to eat; people without clean, healthy water to drink; people without good medical care and medical insurance; people unable to find a full-time job with benefits; we have a scarcity of affordable housing and safe neighborhoods for people to live; there are vulnerable children living in cages at our border; people who love each other often do not feel welcome by their family and the church; people struggling because they or a loved one have an addiction; people who think gun violence is the answer; people living with cancer; people living with a mental illness; people living in nursing homes with no one to visit them; people who withhold forgiveness and mercy; and the list goes on and on. There is ministry to be done.

It is not enough to sit in the pews on Sunday morning and praise God, we are called to be engaged in ministry. We have taken on the ministry of giving youth attending the high school next door to us a safe place to be after school during the school week. We have given the boy scouts a place to meet. We have given the Opioid Task Force and the Tai Chi class a place to meet. We share our building with the Friends church. But God is reminding us that there is ministry to be done in this neighborhood. How are we going to respond? How are we going to be the church in this place and in this time? How are we going to do ministry in this neighborhood? I would love to hear your thoughts on the mission and ministry of Lynnhurst UCC.

Blessings on the journey,

Pastor Monica

Did you know....In an average group of 15-
year-olds:

- Seven are likely to have been bullied
- Six may be self-harming
- One could have experienced the death of a parent

Record levels of young people are struggling, for many reasons - academic pressure, social media, bullying, poverty, lack of availability of professional mental health support...

Youth Mental Health First Aid (YMHFA) courses are for everyone who works with, lives with or supports young people (ages 12-18).

In our training, you will learn the skills and build confidence to spot the signs of mental health issues in a young person, offer first aid and guide them towards the support they need.

In doing so, you can speed up a young person's recovery and possibly stop a mental health issue from getting worse.

Our courses won't teach you to be a therapist, but we will teach you to listen, reassure and respond, even in a crisis - and even potentially stop a crisis from happening.
